NOTE:

- There is no courtesy runner for players in any league. The only instance where a courtesy runner can be used is if there is an injury that occurs in the game, the injured player must leave the game. The player that made last out will run. If a team has only 10 people playing and one player is out because of injury, there will be an automatic out in that players place. IF a team has 11 or more players batting, then there will be no automatic out and that players place in the lineup will be played straight through.
- This year, there will be a league website. This site will be updated daily with standings, schedules, rules, bat lists, etc. In case of rainouts, updated schedules will be available on this site.
